

EAST SIDE.

At the official meeting of the Presbyterian Church, on Wednesday evening, R. M. Irwin, pastor, the following named officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. Poor and Dr. Roal, elders; Messrs. Marston and Muir, Dr. Whitworth, and W. Stockwell and A. W. Ewing, trustees, and James Cox, deacon.

The people on and in the vicinity of Wilhart street are complaining bitterly about the condition of that street. The claim is almost impassable.

Rev. Mr. Muir will preach a memorial sermon for the Gilech Post and Woman's Relief Corps on Sunday evening in the Episcopal Church at the corner of Sicken-and Patrick streets.

The St. John's uniforms will play a game of base-ball on Saturday against Santa Monica's best. The game will be played in Santa Monica.

Mrs. E. Stone left for her old home, Ir-
Vermont, yesterday, to visit her aged parents and other associates of years ago.

O. D. Adams will be here for his health for some time, left yesterday from Boston to visit his friends. He expects to return in the near future.

E. J. Post is spending the week in Redlands planning out his ranch to oranges.

The Arden are trying to convert the old Club Theatre drum surrounding it on the head. They might see quicker results from their efforts by leaving un-drum out and using more positive arguments. They would also show the person in charge by taking their stand in a locality where they know they are not intruding upon any person in particular, and where all may hear if they so desire. The idea of forcing a man to hear the word of God by beating a drum in front of his place of business would be a very poor way of making people generally consider the best.

One of the census takers, while canvassing on the East Side, approached a lady and questioned her about the number in her family. He was informed that she had two children, one 11 months and one 7 years old. He then asked her how many were in the family refused to tell him how many went to school.

LAND CASE
Involving an Extensive Tract Near Monrovia.

A hearing was in progress yesterday in the United States Land Office in the contest case of George W. Dumbell against Dr. Charles Mueller et al. This is the case wherein the contestant is attempting to set aside the entry made by Mr. Mueller of land near Monrovia, and which J. M. Studebaker and J. L. Case afterward purchased from Mr. Mueller and sold to H. H. Boyce and others.

Mr. Dumbell was a clerk for W. N. Monro before the latter went to Mexico, and basins his claim to be allowed to enter the land in question upon alleged fraud by Du Mueller in proving up his land. He claims that the government was deceived by Du Mueller for the sale of the land before he had proved up, and thus invalidated his right to receive his title from the Government.

Messrs. Haynes & Smith represent this contestant and S. M. White, Esq., of Los Angeles, and Mr. C. C. the contestant.

Mr. Duntlell was being cross-examined yesterday afternoon, and in the course of the examination he stated that he had received one letter from W. N. Monroe when the latter was in Mexico, and that he is now in Chili. He stated that Mr. Monroe left California a considerable time ago, and that he could not stand and he went to another country to make some more money. The hearing will probably last several days.

THE CHAMBER.

Silver on an Equal Footing with Gold.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce held a special session yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with Vice-President Harvey Lindley in the chair and Secretary Patton at the desk. The meeting was for the purpose of discussing the silver question and all the gentlemen present made speeches advocating silver and encouraging Colorado and Nevada's Congressmen.

The following donations were left at the chamber yesterday:

Flower donations—Henry Whitehead, Mrs. C. M. Wells, Cushman, Hobbs, Miss Cushman, Mmes. F. O. Cass, John Hornes, Samuel Spear, J. Webber, H. Sham, Herbert Wagner, J. Reed.

Food donations—Chas. Epps, Whittier, pumpkins; Mrs. F. O. Cass, Los Angeles oranges; E. T. Holst, horned toad.

A FRACTIOUS GOAT

That Played Smash at the Arcade Depot.

Detective Russell of the Southern Pacific Company created quite a sensation at the Wolfskill depot yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. For some time his children have been crazy for a goat, and yesterday morning Mr. Russell met a small boy, seated in a box on a couple of wheels, driving a small billy goat. The detective asked the youngster if the goat and wagon were for sale. The youngster was agreeable, and in a few minutes the detective and the goat were on ment say to the police. There were quite a number of persons about the depot who the point and detective arrived, and in a few minutes that old goat was having more fun than anybody. The boy who sold him the detective swore that the goat was as tame as a pet dog, but he will change his mind if the detective catches him. For the detective is very clever and is now nursing the bruises inflicted by his horns. It took two or three officers at half a dozen train hands to capture the goat and secure him.

PROSPECTIVE IMPROVEMENTS

The Board of Public Works on Monday.

Board of Public Works, Deputy City Engineer Ed Lowmes and a Times reporter made the usual tour of the city yesterday afternoon to examine into matters that would come before the board this morning.

First street, between Soto and Mathews has been graded, and its acceptance is asked.

The residents along Main street request that it be swept every night, and it surely needs it.

It is asked that Hope street, from North Adams to Twenty-second, be graded.

It is desired that the grade be changed to Grand avenue and Third street; request from Rich.

The residents of Santa Fé avenue wish extended and opened through the lands of William Butler. Near the southern limits, Butler offers to give half of the frontage through his lands.

Military.

The following promotions are announced from headquarters of the army, in the Fourth Cavalry: First Lieut. Cauliffe Murray, Troop L, to Captain of Troop C; Second Lieut. John M. Neal, Troop C, to First Lieutenant of Troop L; Capt. Murray will proceed to Fort Huachuca; a Lieut. Neal to Fort Lowell.

Maj. Washington Matthews, surgeon,

To Discuss Water.
A mass meeting of water-consumers a property-owners of the West End will be held at 1254 Temple street this evening to discuss water rates charged by the Citizens Water Company, the meter system and the quantity and quality of the supply. It is expected that the Mayor, several Councilmen and representatives of the water company will be present.

THE LAW.

Charles W. Curlew, Amateur Robber, on Trial.

HE TRIED TO WORM OUT OF IT.

A Much-Involved Case of Woyse vs. Woyse, With a Magnificent Array of Legal Talent.

The trial of Charles W. Curlew was on before Judge Cheney yesterday and resulted in some vigorous swearing by the defendant, against whom the evidence was very strong. He is accused of assisting Thomas Long in an attempt to hold up a milkman named Numa about a month ago near Florence. The evidence introduced yesterday was mainly an attempt on Long's part to fix the crime as much on Curlew as on himself, while Curlew told a very glib story, endeavoring to foist all the guilt on Long. Both men showed that they possessed very little moral backbone, and are about as tough specimens of idle and vicious young men as have figured in the courts for some time.

E. M. Numa, who was assaulted, gave the story of the attempted robbery very much as it has been heretofore published. He said he was driving along in his milk wagon the night of April 15th, when he saw two men, one of whom called out for him to halt. He whacked him over the head with his whip handle and whipped up his horses, making his escape, whereupon one of the men fired two shots after him, as he supposed.

Thomas Long, the prosecuting witness, when he took the stand, told the whole story of the evening's occurrences and the after-story of himself by Curlew. He admitted going along the road and the attempt to rob the milkman, but insisted that Curlew is as deep in the mire as he is in the mud, and was thoroughly in sympathy with the expedition, taking an active part in the arrangements and supplying the black masks which they wore. He then told how Curlew, Judas-like, betrayed him to the police, and his subsequent arrest. When he ascertained how his partner had "peached" on him he made a clean breast of it and told the whole story.

Officer Aubrey was put on the stand and was going on to detail the conversation he had with Curlew when the latter came to the station to inform on Long, when the defense objected on the ground that the statement was in the nature of a confession.

He was withdrawn and Chief Glass was examined as the inducements offered Curlew to speak, when it developed that he came to the station voluntarily and asked if there was a reward for the guilty party. The Chief told him there was not, but that he would give a reasonable reward himself to any one who could give information leading to the conviction of the criminal. Upon this offering Curlew made a statement, charging that Long was the man, and that he (Curlew), although near by, was from thirty to fifty yards distant, and saw Long fire at the milkman. He told the Chief that, although he hated to go on the witness stand, he would if necessary to the case.

The testimony of Chief Glass was corroborated by Officers Aubrey and Bowler, the latter testifying to the discovery of the torn mask of the amateur highwayman behind some ties, near the scene of the assault.

In their attempt to keep out this testimony the defense called Emil Harris, to make it appear that inducements had been offered to Curlew to make him talk, and they soon withdrew him, and on their own motion had his few answers stricken out, it appearing that the defendant was endeavoring to sell such information as he possessed and not make a confession implicating himself.

Mr. Harris then stumbled into the trap of the prosecution by calling Mr. Orin, of counsel, and asking him if, the day after the robbery, he had not informed the defendant that he was suspected of the attempted robbery. Mr. Orin had to admit that he did. He was driving out home with his brother, when he met Curlew, whom he knew, and asked him what they had been doing out there, that they should be suspected of the crime.

Curlew, the defendant, a cringing sort of young man, the state's witness, testified to the effect that Long came to his mother's house and they gave him a bed, he being out of work. He is that Long said that they held up somebody, and he began to know that he was a desperate fellow. He went along with him, however, to see that he did not do anything wrong. Long made the masks, he said, and when Numa came along, before he thought, sprang out into the road, shouting to the milkman to stop, at the same time taking his pistol, a large Colt's revolver. Long, he said, spoke of robberies and crimes he had committed in Arizona, and of how he had followed a money-trail to San Francisco, and for the purpose of robbing him, but failed. After the assault they went home and he watched for a chance to get away from Long, who was driving to the station. He said that he would go with him. It was days until he could do so, and he then went to the police office and asked about a reward.

On cross-examination the witness floundered about in a vain attempt to reconcile his actions with a theory of innocence, and Long was put on in rebuttal, denying the statements made by Curlew. He said he did tell him some long stories about Arizona, but both were telling yarns and he did not want to get left. He also spoke of Curlew taking his revolver and pawnwining it after the arrest.

The defense having announced its case closed, with the exception of Mr. Phibbs, an adjournment was taken until this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

WEYSE VS. WEYSE.

An exceedingly intricate case was on trial before Judge Van Dyke yesterday, and will last several days. It is the case of Rudolph Weyse vs. Otto Weyse, and involves the settlement of the estate of E. Naud, and the question of partnership affairs between the Weyse brothers. The array of legal talent is very large, and consists of S. M. White, Esq., for the plaintiff; J. S. Chapman, Esq., for John Miller; E. J. intervenors; Messrs. Anderson, Fitzgerald, Anderson, Messrs. Dooner & Burdett, and Messrs. Broussard and Hatch, for Mrs. Louisa Weyse; Messrs. Wells, Gutherie and Lee for Otto Weyse. The next into the singular one, and embraces the problems arising from several agreements, oral and written, between the Weyse brothers and E. Naud, before the latter's death; also the tangled skein woven by the troubles which arose over the domestic war between the brothers and their wives, Otto Weyse having married the widow of Mr. Naud. The day was principally occupied yesterday in the examination of Otto Weyse, and objections by counsel were properly settled. It was an end in an end over the claims of each bunch of attorneys, but it was a tough job.

NOTES.

The sentence of Toy Sing, convicted a day or two ago of assault with a deadly weapon, was continued by Judge Cheney yesterday until Monday next.

Fred Lovell was held by United States Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday to answer to the charge of cutting timber from Government land in Tehama county. His bail was fixed at $250, which was furnished.

Dr. W. S. and J. E. Williams were placed in the County Jail yesterday as United States prisoners. They were brought up from San Diego by Deputy Marshal Marsh. They were held by Commissioner Ward at San Diego upon the charge of aiding and abetting the Chinamen to land in this country from Mexico not long since.

Yesterday Judge McKinley granted the petition for release of Chang Ching Ling from jail, on writ of habeas corpus. He was held in jail, practically, for debt.

An order was granted yesterday by Judge McKinley for the adoption of Elsie Woolley by A. H. Crowell and Rebecca C. Crowell. Fred Yehi was examined for insanity before Judge McKinley, yesterday, and committed to Stokely J. Wells, who was committed to jail. He was quite violent, and it took several men to bring him to the jail. He formerly resided at Teahup.

Jennette Peyton pleaded not guilty before Judge Cheney yesterday to larceny, while Myrtle Madison pleaded guilty, saying that Jennette was not present, and that she thought she was getting some clothes belonging to Jennette, but was mistaken. The sentence was put over until Monday. James McCusker was arraigned yesterday, and his case was put on the trial calendar in Department No. 1 of the Superior Court.

An information was filed against E. M. Funk yesterday, charging him with obtaining property by means of false representations. Next Monday was set for his arraignment.

NEW CASES.

J. N. Moore began suit against Helen M. Taylor, et al., to foreclose a mortgage for $1410.

John O. Thomas began suit against H. Burlingame to foreclose a mortgage for $2200.

Francis M. Harris began suit against Thomas Robinson for $500 and the foreclosure of a contract for sale of land.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

With Those Double Poll-tax Payments.

Referring to published statements about double payments of poll-tax in certain cases, Assessor Mason said yesterday that mistakes some times occur unavoidably, double payments being made by reason of persons not having a proper understanding before-hand with their wives or employers as to the matter of payment. In the case of railroad employees, the custom has been for the railroad companies to furnish full lists of their employees to the Assessor, whose deputies then proceed to collect the poll-taxes in a lump. Meantime, some of the employees, not knowing about this arrangement, may have gone in person to the collector's office and paid; and in this way double payments occur innocently. Such mistakes are, however, promptly rectified, the money being refunded upon application at the Assessor's office and exhibition of the duplicate receipts.

ABUSED-HIS WIFE.

HOW HACK-DRIVER TITUS AMUSED HIMSELF.

Kicking His Better Half Out of Bed at Midnight and Tearing Her Clothes Almost Off.

Several weeks ago the people who live in the neighborhood of Buena Vista Hill and Temple street were aroused at midnight by the cries of a woman who seemed to be in great distress. The cries came from the residence of John Titus, a hack driver, and a cousin of Mrs. Titus and another gentleman made their way to the house, and on gaining an entrance, they found the lady out in the hallway with her clothes almost all torn from her body, and she was suffering from kicks and bruises upon her body. They carried her downstairs and kept her from her husband. She stated that her husband came home at midnight in a slightly intoxicated condition, and proceeded to kick her out of bed. He then made her dress, and caught her by the hair of the head and dragged her back to bed again. This abuse did not seem to satisfy him, for in a few minutes he kicked her out of bed again, and proceeded to drag her into the hall, where her relatives found her.

The neighbors took a deep interest in the matter, and the other day Mrs. Titus filed a suit for divorce against her husband. The two have been married about twenty years, and this is the first serious quarrel they have had. There is no cause alleged for the husband's strange conduct other than that he had been drinking too much, and as soon as he found out that his wife wanted a divorce he wrote her a long letter in which he promised to abstain from drinking, and the chances are that the suit will be dismissed.

SUNDAY CLOSING.

A Permanent Organization Formed to Push This Work.

Yesterday the Sabbath-closing Union held two sessions at the First Presbyterian Church, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. Both meetings were well attended and there were a number of capital addresses.

An organization of a Los Angeles union was effected by the election of Mr. Strong of Pasadena as chairman and Rev. Mr. James of this city as secretary. The addresses were upon various subjects, and embraced talks upon "The Physical Need of Sunday Rest," by Rev. William Sullivan of Monterey; Rev. M. Larkin of Alhambra and Rev. Will A. Knicker of Los Angeles; "The Intellectual Benefit of the Sunday Rest," by Rev. H. W. Grabbie and Rev. A. C. Williams; "The Family Life Made More Bright and Sweet by the Sunday Rest," by Wilbur F. Crafts, Rev. Dr. Hutchins, J. W. Cochran, Esq., Rev. Dr. Cherington and others. Those present were very much enthused over the question, and the determination was expressed that the work will be prosecuted vigorously by systematic efforts. There were also talks upon the following subjects: "The Physical, Mental and Social Influence of Sunday Amusements," by Sunday Excursions to the State; "The Sunday Saloon Must Be Banned From Our Country," "How Can We Influence Sunday Legislation?" The strong positions were taken by all the speakers in favor of active and persistent work in effecting the reforms proposed.

THE SALOON MEN.

Copies of the following petition were received signatures yesterday at the various saloons in the city:

To the Honorable Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles: We, the undersigned taxpayers and residents of the city of Los Angeles, most respectfully ask your honorable body that you will refuse to act favorably on a certain petition that has been presented to your honorable body by certain signers to close up saloons on Sundays in this city; we deem it a gross injustice to saloon men, who are not alone taxpayers, but who pay into the city treasury for carrying on their business the enormous sum of $500 each per annum as license for a privilege guaranteed under the charter of the city of Los Angeles.

ABOVE THE CLOUDS.

A Little Warlike Brush in a Mountain.

ALL ABOUT A CAMPING SITE.

The Trespassers' Effects Pitched Off Into Space, and the Trespassers Themselves Walk Back.

For some time past there has been talk of adverse claims for a patch of ground near the observatory on Wilson's Peak. A. G. Strain is the holder of a Government claim which comprehends one hundred and sixty acres, and includes most of the more or less precipitous mountain peaks and the depressions between them thereabouts. The temporary observatory is on his claim by his consent, and all the rest of it he holds for his own against the combined pretensions of christendom. To assert this he recently put a gate across the trail on the southern line, and provided the gate with a lock to keep out intruders.

Cowley & Baker, proprietors of the Holbeek Hotel of this city, have had an idea for some time that they would like to establish a resort at the summit of Mt. Wilson, and they did not propose to recognize Mr. Strain's right to the land. There had been considerable talk back and forth, but no action was taken until yesterday. When a party of four, including a man named Dunham, another named Martin and several other men, looked upon the scene, accompanied by four or five burros loaded with provisions and tent equipment. The men passed through Strain's denuded trail around the summit, and at the Assessor's office and exhibition of the duplicate receipts.

It is said that the intruders assert a right to the mountain top by reason of a mining claim, but this claim rests upon a subterfuge. The plucky claim-holder has conformed to the provisions of law, and is acting under the advice of a good lawyer, who is to hold his fort on the summit of Mt. Wilson.

AN AFFECTING SIGHT.

His Excellency and the Engineer of the 'Bone.

Will the Paetolian stream flow once again? Slowly and mournfully His Excellency, Gov. R. W. Waterman, "his brow sketched o'er with the pale cast of thought," and an air of dismal earnest on his classic countenance, entered the Nadeau barroom about 11:30 o'clock last night. He was accompanied by Mr. Morrow, the badly-worked quarry manager of the Trembore, in silence they pressed their troubled breasts against the shining nickel rail that aligns the bar.

"Young man," said the Governor, in his own gubernatorial voice, "give me a lemonade that will effervesce." The bar-keeper quickly sized the ex-Governor up, and deftly slipped him a two-bit milk punch. Mr. Morrow, deeply moved, for a moment forgot his duties, and drank. The Governor laid an American dollar on the polished bar, and received 60 cents.

Not a word was said, not a note was uttered, but slowly and sadly they passed from view, into the secret recesses of the Trembore, and the rumbling of the wheels of the "Bone" once again was stilled.

Companies Ordered Out.

Lieut.-Col. A. T. Palmer, commanding the Seventh Regiment, has ordered Companies A, B, C and F to report for escort duty on the 30th inst., at 1:15 p.m. He has also ordered the same companies to turn out for target practice on the 6th of June. The field and target companies, consisting of 100 men and 100 rifles, will be on duty on the 6th of June.

Brice's Credentials Offered in the Senate.

A Plea for the Free Coinage of Silver by Senator Daniel.

The House Gets to Work on the River and Harbor Bill.

A Measure Passed to Prevent Census Officers Receiving Any Compensation, Except That Paid by Uncle Sam.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON (D. C.), May 22.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.—A message was presented from the President, with a communication from the Secretary of the Interior, on the subject of the purchase from the Creek Indians of land for the use of the Seminoles. Referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

The credentials of Calvin S. Brice as Senator from Ohio were presented and placed on file.

A conference was ordered on the Pension Appropriation Bill.

The Silver Bill was then taken up. Mr. Daniel addressed the Senate in favor of silver currency. He said gold and silver money were wedded by nature. Before the jury of all civil and enlightened nations, throughout centuries, the cause of gold and silver had been heard, and with one voice the nations had answered that to gold and silver belonged the royal attribute of money. Mr. Daniel ridiculed the idea of an avalanche of silver crashing down upon the United States in case of the free coinage of silver. It was obvious, he said, that silver money abroad would not come to the United States mine, and it was also obvious that there was no such annual production of silver in the world ($142,000,000 worth, of which all but $51,000,000 worth was now coined), as to cause any fear on that score. There was only one other point of apprehension, that an accumulation of silver stock of silver that would rush to America as soon as the mint was opened to free coinage, and this was answered by the Secretary of the Treasury himself, who stated in his report, "There is no known accumulation of silver bullion anywhere in the world." All silver should be admitted to free coinage, and all silver being so admitted to a value equal with gold, it was most reasonable to conclude that as soon as there was a restoration of silver to its ancient place of money, the volume of money, the prices of those things that had gone down with its decline would again have a tendency to rise with its ascension.

At the close of Mr. Daniel's speech the Silver Bill was taken without action, and amendments to the Naval Appropriation Bill were agreed to.

House.—The Committee on Census reported a bill amending the census act to prescribe a penalty upon any supervisor or enumerator who shall receive, or attempt to receive, any fee or other consideration in addition to the compensation of such service or enumerator. Passed.

Conferences were ordered on the Army Appropriation Bill and the Military Academy Appropriation Bill.

The House resumed consideration of the whole on the River and Harbor Bill.

Mr. Henderson of Illinois, chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, explained the provisions of the bill, saying it appropriated $20,932,000, based upon estimates aggregating $30,500,000. He believed there was no money that went out of the Treasury that was so much in the interest of the people as money expended in the improvement of rivers and harbors.

Mr. Blanchard of Louisiana spoke in favor of river and harbor bills, contending that they did more to solve the problem of cheap transportation than all the interstate commerce bills that could be passed. The fact that a great and disastrous flood had recently occurred in the lower Mississippi Valley was a sufficient excuse for the need, for calling the attention of the House to the requirements of that stream. It was time Congress should be waking up to the idea that something should be done to harness the waters of the Mississippi. That river was a great national feature to be handled by a State or an aggregation of States. The time had come when Congress should appropriate money, not only for improving navigation of the river, but for the purpose of preventing floods. The late flood had not demonstrated that the levee system was a failure, but that an adequate system of levees would prevent floods, and the piece-meal system, which the impoverished States of the South were able to carry on, was not sufficient to prevent inundation.

Mr. Catchings of Mississippi spoke in the same vein.

Mr. Kerr of Iowa attacked the bill, which was defended by Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio.

After the committee rose Mr. Quinn of New York introduced a bill reducing to 1 cent an ounce the postage on drop letters in cities of 100,000 inhabitants or over.

Stole from Senator Fair.

SACRAMENTO, May 22.—The Chief of Police received a dispatch from Capt. Lees of San Francisco today, asking him to arrest H. J. Palmer, formerly superintendent of Senator Fair's ranch, in Yolo county, on a charge of felony. Search has been made for Palmer, but he was not found. In this new charge he is accused of having falsified books and accounts so as to straighten out an alleged shortage.

An Insane Capitalist.

CHICAGO, May 22.—E. J. Lehmann, a well-known capitalist, and owner of a great department store, was declared by a jury today to be a distracted person, and his wife was appointed conservator of his estate. He has been in Bloomingdale Asylum, near New York, for some time now, and in the opinion of experts, he is clearly a lunatic. The trouble resulted, they say, from too much mental work consequent on the management of his enormous business.

The California League.

SACRAMENTO, May 22.—The game today was rather listless. Zigler and Bowman for Sacramento and Hapeman and Wilson for Stockton were the batteries. Score: Sacramento, 11; Stockton, 10.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The home team won in the ninth inning by making five runs. The batteries were Meegan and Dungan for Oakland, Lookabaugh and Stevens for San Francisco. Score: San Francisco, 15; Oakland, 10.

Bound to Oppose Strikes.

BUFFALO, May 22.—It is learned that the action of the Rochester convention of railroad conductors in eliminating the anti-strike clause from the constitution is likely to disintegrate the organization. Two important divisions have withdrawn. An eastern delegate is quoted as saying that the action of the convention would certainly result in the withdrawal of a large majority, if not all of the New England, New Jersey and Pennsylvania divisions, and the formation of a new organization on a strictly non-striking basis.

The Question of Submitting Overtures to the Presbyteries.

Baptist Brethren Badly Disturbed by the Color Line.

The Southern Presbyterians Finally Reconsider Their Recent Colorless Utterances on Temperance, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SARATOGA, May 22.—[By the Associated Press.] At this morning's meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly the committee on amendments to the confession of faith reported recommending that overtures be made to the presbyteries for the insertion of a new chapter in the form of government to the effect that amendments or alterations of the form of government, book discipline and directory for worship may be proposed by the General Assembly to the presbyteries, but shall not be obligatory on the church unless a majority of all presbyteries approve thereof in writing; that amendments or alterations of the confession of faith and longer and shorter catechisms may be proposed to the presbyteries by the General Assembly, but shall not be obligatory on the church unless approved in writing by two-thirds of all the presbyteries and agreed to and enacted by the next ensuing General Assembly; that amendments or alterations of the confession of faith or larger or shorter catechisms proposed by the General Assembly shall be transmitted to the presbyteries; that the General Assembly shall appoint to consider the subject a committee of ministers and ruling elders, in number not less than fifteen, of whom not more than two shall be from any one synod, and the committee shall report its recommendations to the General Assembly next ensuing for action; that no change in this proposed new chapter shall be made except upon vote of two-thirds of the presbyteries; that upon overtures from one-third of the presbyteries it shall be obligatory upon the General Assembly to transmit to all presbyteries any overtures for amendments under this new chapter, for trial, and will claim their rights to the money as pay for services on committees. Some have returned a portion of the money received to the treasury.

BAPTIST BRETHREN.

A Color-line Episode Causes a Sensation.

CHICAGO, May 22.—[By the Associated Press.] The American Baptist Publication Society today elected Samuel A. Cresser of Pennsylvania president. A large number of other officers were elected. A committee report was adopted recommending that the managers appoint men to prepare a catechism for use in the Sunday-schools.

At the afternoon session a sensational episode occurred, involving the race question. Rev. A. Binga of Virginia presented a protest from the Virginia State Association of Colored Baptists, condemning the publication society for the indignity offered the colored people by dropping through race prejudice, the names of Rava, Lowe, Simmonds and Brooks from the list of contributors to the Baptist Teacher. Mr. Binga firmly demanded an explanation of the dropping of his three colored brethren.

General Secretary Griffiths assumed all responsibility. He said the three ministers in question had said warm things during the bitter troubles at Indianapolis last year, which the people had exaggerated and misunderstood. The three were thereby unfitted to serve as editorial writers, and the publishers, who had the right, had so informed them.

At the conclusion of Dr. Griffiths' remarks the protest was referred to the board of managers. It was intimated during the discussion of the matter that unless something is done to counteract the effect of the dismissal of the three colored writers, the Baptists are liable to have their hold on the colored race weakened.

Southern Presbyterians.

ASHEVILLE (N. A PERTINENT QUESTION.

Is Immigration Beneficial to America?

THE SUBJECT WELL CANVASSED.

A Paper by a Citizen of Los Angeles in the Hands of Senator Chandler-Letter from the Senator.

A well-known citizen of Los Angeles has received the following letter from United States Senator William E. Chandler:

UNITED STATES SENATE. WASHINGTON (D.C.), April 5, 1890. My Dear Sir: Your letter of March 24th, inclosing your paper headed "Is Immigration Beneficial to America?" has come to hand, and the same will have due examination. I have to thank you for furnishing your opinions in such concise form. I trust they will be of service. Yours truly,

W. E. CHANDLER.

Following is the paper referred to:

IS IMMIGRATION BENEFICIAL TO AMERICA.

The position which a nation holds and maintains in the family of nations, its power and influence, is due not so much to its population as it is to the intellectual development of its inhabitants.

The intellectual development of a people is of slow growth. Centuries are required to mark its progress, while its growth in a generation is hardly perceptible.

Labor is the foundation and cornerstone of all the works of man. The wealth of a nation is gathered from its labor.

The labor of a smaller number of intelligent workmen will accomplish more in a given time and with less waste of material and consumption of subsistence than a larger number of unintelligent workmen.

An excess of laborers, over and above the labor required, is an evil. It disturbs the tranquility of the community, and, if the excess is large, brings disorder, arrests prosperity and endangers the permanence and safety of the Nation.

There is not now, nor is there any ground to expect that in the future there will be any deficiency in America of laborers to perform all the work to be done.

The immigration flowing into this country from Europe brings a large number of adult laborers and heads of families, who come in search of employment by which to maintain themselves and their families.

If the intellect of the immigrants that come to America is above that of the average American, the standard of American intellect will be raised; but if their intellectual development is below that of Americans, the standard of American intellect will be lowered.

It is not the great intelligence of a few that fixes the national intellect, but that of the whole mass of inhabitants, and it is assumed that the average intellect of the immigrants is below that of being above, is below that of Americans, and is therefore detrimental.

It follows from the foregoing postulates that immigration, instead of being beneficial and desirable, is prejudicial to the best interests of the Nation, and its suppression would tend to the national welfare.

The intelligence, prosperity and influence of the rate of wages in a nation move on parallel lines.

While it is not presumed that this immigration can or should be suddenly suppressed, legislation is demanded, which shall restrict and diminish the many evils to which the people are subjected by the great influx of strangers.

Unless something better or more efficacious should be proposed, covering the following points should be enacted without delay:

Every male immigrant or head of a family coming into this country for the purpose of becoming a permanent resident must immediately, and if coming by sea, before landing, present to the proper officer of the Government a certificate from the American Consul, resident in the district or country of which such immigrant is a citizen or subject, that he knows of his own knowledge, or has conclusive evidence on file in his office that the person named in said certificate is an able-bodied and industrious person, and has the means, or is capable by his labor, to maintain and support himself and his family, if he has one.

The naturalization laws should provide that on filing an application for letters of naturalization the applicant should at the same time and with the petition file a certificate, duly issued by a consul residing in America of the nation or government of which the petitioner was a citizen or subject, certifying that at least three months previous to the issuing of this certificate the person named therein filed in his office a notice that he intended to sever his allegiance to his nation and to become a citizen of America.

No person admitted to citizenship after the passage of this law shall be eligible to vote at an election for any officer of the American Government or for a member of the Legislature of any State in the Union unless he shall have been a permanent resident of America for a period of not less than ten years after he has received his letters of naturalization.

Weight, 160 Pounds. SANTA ANA, May 22.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The preliminary examination of Almer and Joseph Clapp, charged with criminal assault upon the person of Ida Brooks, took place at Arch Beach yesterday. The father of the girl testified, as did also the daughter. No testimony was given by the defense, as the story of force, as detailed by the girl, was altogether too flimsy to hold the boys to answer. District Attorney Edwards conducted the prosecution, and J. C. Macabae the defense. The boys were discharged upon the testimony of the prosecution alone.

Although the lads made no denial of the accusation, yet the fact that Miss Ida shows up at 160 pounds avoirdupois, and the combined weight of the defendants but little over that amount, militated against the story of the prosecuting witness, and her chances for convicting them. The sympathy of the locality of the beach was entirely on the side of the accused parties.

Smoking in Japan. The pipes hold a little wad of fine-cut tobacco as big as a pea. It is fired, and the smoker takes one long whiff, blowing the smoke in a cloud from his mouth and nose. The ladies have pipes with longer stems than the men, and if one of them wishes to show a gentleman a special mark of favor she lights her pipe, takes half a whiff, hands it to him and lets him finish out the whiff.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Green vs. Wanamaker. CAN WE CHEAPER TELEGRAPH RATES?

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Dr. Green of the Western Union corporation says we cannot. But all of his predecessors said the same thing every time a reduction was proposed during the last 30 years. Yet the prices went down, time after time, and still there was money enough in the business for dividends on its stock. Watered though it was to the amount of more than half its volume. This word can't have become chronic, so to speak, in the dictionaries of the telegraph managers. Its use was commenced by two Congressmen in 1843, when they passed Morse's proposition to send intelligence over a wire a distance of 10 miles. "It can't be done," said they, and they voted against the asked for subsidy to try the experiment! Again, after Morse had proven his ability to transmit intelligence correctly and speedily, and offered his patent and constructed line to the Government for the sum of $100,000, the Postmaster-General, by order of Congress, investigated the line and its business, and reported that "as a conveyor of intelligence it 'can't be made to pay expenses!'" Later, the science and skill of the Western Union corporation put their "can't be done" on the project to work a transatlantic cable, and it took a dry goods merchant—Cyrus W. Field—to show them that their negatived knowledge was simply assumption. And it is to be hoped Mr. Wanamaker will prove another Field to them, and demonstrate, as he certainly will if an opportunity is given, that a large reduction in rates can be made and lines still be self-supporting if the money earned is appropriated solely to the working cost of the service.

Let me cite a few burdens the paid traffic of the Western Union is now bearing to prove that Mr. Wanamaker's proposition has more than working expenses in it. Firstly, I will state on the authority of a gentleman long in the employment of that company that fully one-fourth of the matter passing over its wires pays no direct revenue—it is dead-head, as the craft phrase it. The corporation has contracts with over fifty railroad companies, and the business of said railroads is either done entirely free or at a discount of 50, 30 or 20 per cent, as the case may be. In our own State the Western Union pays the Central Pacific and leased lines $100,000 per annum and passes the correspondence of the railroads and Western Express & Co.'s Express free in order to have a monopoly of the railroad stations and wires. These are burdens a government line traffic would not have to bear.

Secondly, by the sale of stamped message blanks an immense amount of clerical work over the Western Union system would be effected. The present postage stamp clerks would have all the money, and the large force now employed in the "check-error" department of the telegraph company could be turned over to more congenial and more profitable employment. In office rents, lights, fuel and incidentals there would also be large savings. Again, in the saving of district and division superintendents, secretaries, treasurers, electricians and their attaches, a huge outgo would be stopped.

Thirdly and lastly, the Western Union stock is said to be about $35,000,000, and the last dividend I noticed declared was at the rate of 5 per cent., being the amount of $4,250,000. This immense amount of money Mr. Wanamaker could not have to pay in order to keep his project afloat should he be fortunate enough to launch it successfully.

I think that I have made it plain that with the discontinuance of the free business and corrupting rebates of the Western Union system, and the further saving in clerical and incidental expenses, which would be made by uniting the offices and stopping the huge dividend maelstrom, the telegraph business would be self-supporting, even with a rate reduction of even 50 per cent on present charges. This is the candid opinion of many veterans in the service, and in it I most fully concur.

THE TIMES IN PASADENA.

The advantage to residents of Pasadena in buying THE TIMES consists in the fact that they not only get the columns of the news of their own city every day, but also the news of Los Angeles, of the State, the Coast, the East and the world.

The paper is served regularly by carrier, at an early hour every morning, to the residences and business places of citizens, at the same price charged in Los Angeles.

BRANCH OFFICE, No. 26 1/2 E. Colorado St.
NOTE AND COMMENT.

The clouds still linger.

LET us have more shade trees, a public park, a brass band and a baseball nine.

SOME of our prominent citizens are wearing their faces shaved, summer fashion. Even their best friends don't know them.

TRouble is brewing in local-school affairs. Indications point to a renewal of hostilities between the Monroe and Pinckney factions. This is to be regretted, but the clash seems inevitable.

THE Plattsburg (Mo.) Jeffersonian has for its motto, "A schoolhouse on every hilltop, and no saloon in the valley." Very applicable to Pasadena.

THE Charity Organization society is in need of funds. The demand is not so pressing as during the winter, but some appeals for aid have to go unanswered, owing to paucity of present contributions. Let those benevolently inclined come to the front and assist this altogether deserving organization.

THE article in yesterday's issue of THE TIMES referring to the probable early retirement of Capt. Cross from the presidency of the rapid transit road was the subject of considerable comment in town yesterday. Capt. Cross's friends professed great surprise over the matter, but not one took it upon himself to deny the possibility of affairs taking such a turn.

THE public schools have lately received more than usual attention. A new organization, entitled the "National League for the Protection of American Institutions," has recently been incorporated in New York. The objects of the league are to secure constitutional and legislative safeguards for the protection of the common-school system and other American institutions, to promote public instruction in harmony with such institutions, and to prevent all sectarian or denominational appropriations of public funds. The law committee of the league has approved a form of amendment to the national Constitution. It provides that no State shall pass any law respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or using its property for the purpose of founding any religious denomination which is wholly or in part under sectarian control. It is proposed to organize leagues in different communities and States to oppose foreign schools and doctrines, and to publish treatises on distinctly American institutions. In the Boston schools good manners and good morals are henceforth to be taught. Our public school curriculum is already overloaded. Still these new studies might be introduced to advantage all over the country, as children might thereby be taught to regard the lottery-like voting competitions in which so many teachers have engaged lately, as contrary both to good manners and good morals. Pasadena has reason to be proud of her public schools, and matters pertaining thereto are always of deep interest to our citizens.

BREVITIES.

The weather still remains unsettled. The bicycle club adopted a set of bylaws at its meeting Wednesday night.

Some repairs were made to Fair Oaks avenue just north of Colorado street yesterday.

The first Pinafore rehearsals were held yesterday afternoon and evening under the direction of Prof. Kyle.

C. N. Terry, A. M. McPherson, Josiah Russell, Sidney Miller and Ernest Canfield will be the census enumerators for Pasadena.

But few members of the tennis club attended the weekly meet yesterday afternoon, the court being wet from the preceding night's rain.

An old-fashioned spelling bee was given yesterday evening in the First Congregational Church that afforded much amusement to all present.

The condition of the San Gabriel Valley Bank was examined into on Wednesday by State Bank Examiners Knight and Gebhardt and found to be O. K. throughout.

Harry, a son of W. H. Dwight, had his arm broken and his scalp cut badly while playing "snake-the-whip" on Wednesday afternoon on South Pasadena avenue.

Petitions are being circulated in the interest of Messrs. Holder, Spalding and Bent as candidates for school trustees of this district. These gentlemen represent the Pinckney or anti-Monroe faction.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will hold a business meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the reading room of the association, 48 East Colorado street. Important business, and full attendance is desired.

Charles Logge has sold the property at the northwest corner of Colorado street and Raymond avenue to Messrs. Johnson & Ford, who will erect a building upon it for their feed and grain business. The sale was effected by T. Earley, who said yesterday that the papers had not yet been drawn up. Until then he did not care to state the price.

Cheering Railroad Item. William Hixon, member of the Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce, was in town yesterday, in the interests, it is said, of establishing direct railroad communication between Salt Lake City and Southern California. He is quoted as saying that the Union Pacific's extension to Los Angeles is a question of but a short time, and that the Arroyo Seco pass will be chosen as the best possible route.

MRS. GREELY PASSES AWAY.

Regimental Orders—Bylaws Drawn Up for Company B's Civil Organization—Other Items of Interest.

Mrs. George Greely died at the residence of her husband on De Lacy street at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night. During her brief illness her sufferings were intense, but, toward the end, she lapsed into unconsciousness, and passed peacefully away. She is survived by her husband and two children, one an infant but a few days old. The funeral service will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Christian Church. Interment will be made in Mountain View Cemetery.

The deceased was a daughter of Judge and Mrs. Evey, and was highly respected and beloved by a large circle of friends. The sympathy of the community goes out to her afflicted husband, who followed his mother to her last resting place but a short time ago.

BYLAWS

For Governing the Civil Organization of Company B.

The following bylaws, by which the civil organization of Company B, N. G. C., will be governed, have just been drawn up by the committee appointed for that purpose, and will be adopted at the next meeting of the organization, to be held on Thursday night of next week.

The object of this organization shall be the transaction of all company business in which the members have a voice. The name of this organization shall be the "Markham Guards." The officers shall consist of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. The captain of the company shall be president. The president shall preside at all meetings, see that all present are qualified to vote, and shall perform such other duties as may be called upon to do. The ranking officers below the captain shall be the vice-president, who shall perform such duties as the officer may require. The secretary shall keep a correct record of all meetings, notify all members who may be fined for non-attendance, and perform such other duties as he may be called upon to do. The treasurer shall keep a correct account of all moneys, shall keep a separate account between each member and the company, and shall pay moneys out only on orders issued by ranking officers and countersigned by the secretary.

The members of this organization shall be held on the first Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. in the armory.

It shall be within the jurisdiction of this company to levy fines for non-attendance at drills, to vote new members into the company and to recommend according to law members for discharge.

Fines shall be imposed as follows: For non-attendance at regular drills without a reasonable excuse, 25 cents for first offense, 50 cents for second offense, $1 for each succeeding absence. No member shall be considered in good standing who has fines or dues due the company.

One-third of the entire strength of the company shall constitute a quorum to transact business. It shall take a majority vote of all members present at any regular meeting to admit members into the company. None but regular active members shall be entitled to vote. Honorary members shall not be entitled to vote, but shall have a voice in the deliberations.

The following sections provide for the order of business and manner in which amendments may be added to the bylaws. The committee, consisting of First Lieut. Hamilton, Sergt. Lancaster and Private Berry, was given full power as to the wording and provisions of the bylaws. A mere formality is alone necessary to secure their adoption.

Regimental Orders.

Lieut. Cambell yesterday received the following orders from regimental headquarters relative to Company B:

First—Upon recommendation of the respective company commanders the following named members are hereby honorably discharged for the reasons stated: Sergt. Witell, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, removal; Private E. A. Carstens, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, removal; Private H. G. Shaver, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, removal; Private E. K. Spencer, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, removal; Private Joseph W. Fairman, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, removal; Private Charles R. Gahr, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, vote of company; Private S. C. Smith, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, vote of company; Private Harry Cummings, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, vote of company; Private E. G. Watson, Company B, enlisted December 23, 1889, vote of company.

Second—Upon his application, approved by the respective company commanders, Private George A. Simpson of Company B is hereby transferred to Company A.

Third—Upon recommendation of the company commanders the following appointments of non-commissioned officers are hereby announced: Corporal Virgil R. Sutcliffe, Company B, to be Sergeant, vice Ethel; Corporal J. J. Vail, Company B, to be Corporal, vice Sutcliffe, promoted. They will rank as such from date of this order, and be obeyed and respected accordingly.

Eastward Bound.

The following ladies left Pasadena yesterday for the East: Mrs. W. P. Hammond, whose destination is Providence, R. I.; Miss Jennie Harms, for Plattville, Wis.; Miss E. L. Klippstein, for Lena, Ill., and Miss Sarah McMurtry, who goes to Creston, Iowa. Mrs. Hammond joined a Phillips excursion party in Los Angeles. The other ladies went with a Burlington excursion via the Denver and Rio Grande.

Whist Devotees.

A whist tournament was inaugurated by the Pasadena Whist Club at its meeting Wednesday evening. The members participating are paired off as follows: Messrs. St. John and Fordham, Van Doren and Kayser, Hertel and Kyle, Conger and Jones, Foster and Frosner, Rose and Walker. The tournament will be concluded in the latter part of June. It promises to be one of the most interesting the club has ever held.

LAMANDA PARK'S LIBRARY.

Interesting Exercises in the School Building—A Dance Follows.

The Public Library at Lamanda Park was formally opened Wednesday evening with appropriate exercises. The library, which is well stocked with a valuable and interesting collection of books, is located in the handsome public school building in the western part of the town. It has been fitted up for the use of the school children and for the public generally.

Wednesday evening's exercises were opened with an overture played by an orchestra made up of local performers. A brief musical program of much merit followed, which was participated in by the Polymnia Quartette and Prof. O. W. Kyle of Pasadena and Mrs. Abbot Kinney, president of the library board, followed in remarks appropriate to the occasion. Lunch was served afterward to the many present, and a dance followed, which was continued until a late hour. A number of Pasadenians were present.

HOTEL SAN GABRIEL.

An Important Contract Closed with the Raymond People.

Manager H. R. Warner of the Hotel San Gabriel was in town yesterday. He reports the house well filled with guests who expect to remain all summer.

Mr. Warner on Wednesday closed a contract with Raymond & Whitcomb for entertaining all excursionists during the ensuing year who arrive here prior to the opening of the Raymond in the fall, or after it closes in the spring. If at that time there is an overflow of guests at the Raymond during the coming winter, the contract provides that they are to be entertained at the San Gabriel. The contract is an important one, which will aid materially to the prosperity of Mr. Warner's now thriving hostelry.

Went Out to Shoot.

"Col." James H. Cambell, Sergt. J. W. Lancaster and "Maj." W. S. Smith of Company B, shouldered their rifles Wednesday evening and went out to shoot on the 200-yard range in the arroyo. Out of a possible 50, the bullets projected a woman of large proportions, and the services of six strong men were required to carry her to the Santa Fe station at Olivewood, where she was placed on a train and taken home.

Somewhat Strained.

The sensational report published in last night's Express to the effect that the mutilated remains of an individual had been discovered in North Pasadena, and which hints at foul play, is somewhat strained. The facts plainly stated are that Officer Slater found a human leg in a shed in the vicinity indicated, and the report of a large proportion of the services of six strong men were required to carry her to the Santa Fe station at Olivewood, where she was placed on a train and taken home.

A Reunion.

The annual reunion of the societies connected with the Universalist parish will be held in the vestry tonight. An entertaining social and musical program has been arranged, and reports will be made by the several societies of the year's work.

Sheep in the Apple Orchard.

One of the best methods of decreasing the codlin moth in apple orchards is to allow the hogs to roam at will among the trees, but, in very large orchards, the hog, not being very alert, is apt to miss many of the fallen apples, and the larvae to which he is an Oregon orchardist recommends that sheep are better in the orchards than hogs, being much more alert and more apt to get every fruit which drops.

A Delicate Subject.

A Kentucky paper relates that when the new pastor of a church asked the colored sexton what sort of sermons he thought would best suit the congregation, the reply was: "Well, sah, yer kin preach dis yer con'gashun any larned sermon dat is religious, but for de Lord's sake touch em light on de den cankles."
